Senator Benjamin A Forrester ed at his home this morning at x o'clock of heart failure.

He had been in bad health for a ar, but was in Dothan last week ecting his many friends and reports his death this morning were a prise to his many friends and sc quaintances in Dothan

Senator Forrester had been a res dent of Cowarts for many years here he had accumulated quite a ortune.

Several times in the history of this ection of the wire grass has he een a conspicuous figure on poll ics. He was a successful man in olitics but was not a politician in ny sense of the word

Several years ago he was elected o the legislature, and the legisla ive campaign before the last he was elected as senator from this enatorial district

When he announced for office it was certain that he would be elect ed for no man in this county would oppose him, who stood any show ng of election

During his long years service of the people of this section he has stood for the right as he saw it He usually was correct and no one ever doubted his sincerity He was noted for his rugged honesty and open manner of speech

Besides his widow, the following children survive him

Mrs Jim Folks, who lives near Cowarts R B Forrester, S S For rester, V. I Forrester, H G For rester of the Dothan National Bank of this city Whit Forrester, J C Forrester Oliver A Forrester, Lord Forrester, Mrs Geo W Pitchford of this city Mrs Hugh H Hodge and Ila Sibbie Forrester

Years ago when the wire grass in this section Mr Forrester took much of it and put what he got to is held to do much but he is for one years been considered he was the individual in Hous on county who owned the most land. He built railroad from Cowarts to Cottonwood for the convenience of this section and to give his saw mill business access to the road

He had holdings in Oklahoma Dothan and his own unaccounted with an business concern with which one thing to the credit of every one knows him knew him to be honest and fair to all in all mankind

Few men have died in this section of the country and have enjoyed the financial success in the achieve ed, and who have more friends

ed with making a dishonest dollar

He was charitably inclined and few appeals were ever made to him in vain

In the legislature he was not known as orator but was known for having something to say when he arose and he commanded the close est attention of his fellow members while he made himself understood in his unique commonsense way

Houston county has lost one of her most able and beloved citizens

The burial will take place tomor row evening at Oakhurst at Cow arts

A large number of Dothan people will go down to attend the funer al

Wednesday, Dec. 13, 1911

Somebody must dig the coal, but we are glad we don't want to.

The Atlanta Journal rises to remark that if one is mean enough he can quarrel with his sweetheart now and get out of sending her a Christmas present, but says, truthfully, that you can't do your wife that way.

GOOD WEATHER FOR THEM.

This is fairly good weather, and the season is perfectly lovely, to do a nice blind tiger business.

People who take notice of such things are telling it that some whiskey is being sold in Dothan.

It is claimed that it is done mostly on the boot-legging plan, or peddled out in hacks and buggies, by people who have no place of established business.

The blind tiger business, is like a piney woods fire. About the time you think it's out, it breaks out in a new place. All the time the situation must be watched. If the officers let up, they creep back.

If there are blind tigers in Dothan, we have enough officers to find out about them and make arrests. If the officers do not do this, then there is a way of finding out whether they are doing their duty, and a remedy.

The continuation of blind tigers, if we have them, is merely an evidence that our people are not trying to stop them and are busy with other matters.

During the next three weeks, if the people of this town want lawful order, they will find out what is to the report. If whiskey is being sold it will be sold during the next three weeks.

THE HYDE JUROR.

The greatest piece of news the press has carried in a time, was the successful escape of one of the Dr. Hyde jurors. He climbed out over the transom, and a couple of deputy sheriffs couldn't do a thing with him. He made good his escape, and probably, if he had money enough, is hoeing for South America.

The ordinary newspaper reader would hardly tell you just when the Hyde trial began this last time, but it has been several weeks, and that juror cuss didn't see any hope. He had a family to support, and had committed no crime himself, to be detained for. He could stand the confinement no longer, and effected his escape.

Just what punishment will be presided out to him if he is ever apprehended is not known, but it should be light.

There will come a time in American history, when it will be impossible to get a respectable man to serve on the jury, for all it is claimed to be one of the duties of citizenship.

It is probably due to the method the court and the lawyers have in conducting a trial.

If a man is being tried for a crime, and has enough money to employ expert witnesses, there is no telling when a trial will come to an end.

One of the most commendable acts in the lives of the McNamara brothers is their confession. They are serving their time, without a kick, but a monument ought to be raised to their memory, for bringing a stinking, long drawn out trial to a close, a thing that rarely ever happens.

We shall watch the press dispatches with interest, to see if they ever catch that poor Hyde juror. We hope he makes good his escape.

What he thought of the guilt or innocence of Dr. Hyde cuts an figure. No man should be taken up from business, and let it go to rack for months to serve his state in a capacity as juror, when there is no end in sight.

WHAT ABOUT GAS?

Three or four years ago something was said in this town about granting a gas franchise.

Nothing ever came of this venture because the people here didn't have any confidence in the men trying to promote it. People thought that he wanted to get it through and sell the right to some one else, thus making good money that the town of Dothan is entitled to.

Things have changed a good deal since then. The town has grown, and the demand for gas has grown to where a gas plant in Dothan ought to pay from the start but it looks like that it could be ascertained.

The town could grant the right for a plant to be erected provided the rate would be cheap enough that it would be of benefit to the public.

If by using gas the fuel bill can be cut down materially in cooking, then we should have gas.

Wood, as all know who have had occasion to buy it to cook with, is a mighty expensive fuel, and there is plenty. Nothing to do but step out and cut it, but the price is three and four times higher than it was ten years ago.

In places where they have a gas plant, many people cook with gas, because it is cheaper. If we could get a satisfactory rate, which should be specified before any franchise is granted, then it is a good time to discuss the matter.

A gas company could be organized with many capital, by home men.

THE WASHINGTON TYPHOID EPIDEMIC.

The report on the occurrence and causation of typhoid fever in Washington, D. C., by Dr. L. L. Lumsden and Dr. John F. Anderson, of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, just published, is, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association, the most patient and elaborate study of an epidemic of typhoid fever hitherto made in the United States. Typhoid fever had long been abundant in Washington and its excess was widely attributed to the water-supply until in 1905 the installation of a model slow sand filter to purify the Potomac River water failed to reduce the amount of typhoid fever.

In 1906 the Hygenic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service began an investigation. It was found that about 22 per cent. of all the cases apparently contracted the disease elsewhere. Negroes, composing 28 per cent. of the population, furnished 28.1 per cent. of the reported cases, a lower rate than that of the whites. The mortality rate, on the contrary, was 50.1 for negroes and 23.1 for whites. Asserting that the disease has had not a single, but a multiple origin, the authors consider at length the part played by the various possible factors, seeking to apportion to each of its contributary share. A large number of cases was found, for example, among the users of privies than among the users of sewers. Milk, in 1909, as in the earlier years, is found to have been "one of the major factors." Ice-cream, although none of the cases in 1909 was definitely attributed to it, is nevertheless regarded with suspicion. Raw fruits and vegetables, while not actually proved guilty, are rightly suspected as contributory factors, especially as typhoid fever cases were found in several instances on grossly unsanitary farms supplying Washington with green vegetables. Flies receive due attention and are allowed a "considerable part" in the whole; but the authors very properly point out the want of complete correspondence between the fly season and typhoid prevalence, and deny to flies any "major" part.

Water naturally receives most consideration, but the author, cautiously concludes that very little of the typhoid fever in Washington has, since 1906, come from the water.

The shellfish question takes on a special prominence in cities like Washington, Baltimore and Richmond, located near the shores of the beds of Chesapeake Bay. The report concludes that oysters probably played "a considerable part in the causation of typhoid fever in Washington in 1908-9, and probably contributed more largely than any other single factor to the undue prevalence of the disease in that winter."

The investigators are convinced that the greater part of the typhoid fever in Washington comes through milk, green vegetables and other foods, and by fingers and flies. Some of the infection undoubtedly is derived from without the city, but the bulk of it is spread from typhoid fever patients and typhoid carriers within the city. Five years study of the situation shows that an efficient campaign with in the city against typhoid fever as a communicable disease and the enforcement of reasonable measures to prevent the introduction of infection into the city from without through food supplies, such as milk, green vegetables and shellfish, would reduce typhoid fever in the District of Columbia to a negligible quantity

Coast Line Train

ROBBERY WAS ONE OF THE MOST DARING IN MANY YEARS.

Savannah Ga., Dec. 12.—Atlantic Coast Line train No. 80 northbound which left Savannah for New York 30 minutes late this morning at 12.45 o'clock was held up by robbers a short distance from Hardeeville S. C., just before day this morning. The train was running in two sections because of the heavy passenger traffic and it is reported the express car which the robbers were believed to be after was carried on the second section and escaped. The robbers however captured the mail car and secured several sacks of registered mail.

D. H. McRoy, the night operator at Hardeeville, states that the train reached his station in good condition and he gave it the signal to go ahead. Soon after the train got a way and before it had gotten out of sight it was stopped. He was surprised to see this as it had no signal to stop. Just about that time the second section of the train arrived from Savannah and McRoy advised the crew to go ahead and find out what the trouble was with the first section. Arriving at the spot where the first section had stopped the train crew found the utmost confusion. The robbers two in number had forced the engineer to stop his train and covering the flagman and conductor with pistols they made the flagman open the mail car after it had been detached from the train and run some distance. Here two mail clerks were found at work and they were made to give up two bags of registered mail. The robbers then made their escape.

Special Train in Pursuit.

As quickly as possible Savannah was notified of the robbery and a special train consisting of an engine and two cars with several Coast Line officials and detectives were en route to the scene within an hour. The special was in charge of Engineer L. E. Rawls and a conductor. The Coast Line and the Southern use the same tracks out of Savannah to Hardeeville and while en route to the scene of the holdup the train with the detectives on board ran into a freight of the Seaboard railway.

Charles R. Daly the messenger and Engineer Rawls both got hurt and escaped serious injury although the negro was painfully hurt.

The word believed that the officials and the detectives for some time and they did not reach the scene of the holdup until several hours after it had occurred.

The robbers it is believed boarded the train at Hardeeville as the dispatcher thinks he saw two suspicious looking characters aboard at that point. He think they got between the two front coaches and from there the made their way to the tender and the engine.

Passengers Frightened.

Another feature of the robbery was the scare of the passengers on the local Coast Line train leaving here at 9.40 o'clock this morning, just this side of Hardeeville. The train was going at a good rate of speed when suddenly there was a loud report and everybody jumped up believing it was held up too. Pistols were drawn till the passengers determined to protect themselves at all hazards. There was almost a panic for a time until it was found that the noise had been made by a torpedo which had been placed on the track to warn the train of the duty of the second section of No. 80. Some of these on the train that was stopped were:

W. R. Kahn, of New York; F. G. Trenchard of Philadelphia; W. V. Gilmore superintendent of Bridges of the Atlantic Coast Line; W. R. Williams Savannah and G. S. Bloomer of Atlanta.

The Coast Line officials said early this morning, they did not know the value of the loot carried by the robbers but that it always was

H. W. Wingard and employe of the Georgia railroad at Augusta who was on the train stopped by the torpedo realized what it was and did a great deal to avert stopping the panic which threatened for a time.

D. T. Davis of Hilburg was in the city today.

LUNA PARK BURNED

New York, Dec. 11.—At four this afternoon half of Luna Park one of the big show places of Coney Island has been destroyed by fire and the flames had fulfilled their attempts to control them. The situation of the entire plant is threatened.

The New York office of Frederick Thomp on owner of the park has made no estimate of the damage but it is understood the loss will be between $250,000 and $500,000.

Kelly and ex engineer says. "Three years ago my kidneys became so bad that I was compelled to give up my engine and quit. There was a dull aching pain over the hips followed by an inflamation of the bladder and always a thick sediment. Foley Kidney Pills made me a sound man and I cannot say too much in their praise." N. H. McCallum.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 11.—Burt H. Franklin an investigator employed by the defense in the murder trial of James B. McNamara was held to the Superior court today by Justice William J. Young to answer to charges of bribery of a juror and attempting to influence the verdict of a jury.

DOUGLAS GROVE DAIRY

NEW JERSEY YOUTH HAS MOST REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE.

Leaving Home With 75 Cents, James O'Neill Worked at Almost Every thing Imaginable in All Parts of the Country

Four years ago James O'Neill left his home at 254 York street Jersey City, with exactly 75 cents in his pocket Before he returned to his home a few days ago he traveled all over the country and had a working experience in countless capacities in nearly every large city in North America where most of the time was spent He is now working in the auditing department at the Waldorf Astoria and he declared that it felt good to be home again says the New York Herald

"Since I've been away he said I have worked at everything imaginable from managing a fire and ten cent store to waiting table in a tea garden in Japan I never knew there were so many different ways of making a living until I got away from home I learned, too, it doesn't pay to be particular if one wants to eat regularly

I had some amusing and likewise tragic experiences In Portland Ore for instance I was floor walker in a bird store That was tragic for I was discharged for eating bird seed It looked so good on breakfast food to me for food and I had been on the outs for several days before I got the job

At a lumber camp in Canada I got into a shooting scrap and nearly lost my life A French Canadian with whom I had several disputes became intoxicated one night and fired three shots at me His [illegible] and the bullet [illegible] whizzed [illegible] head

I had not been there [illegible] when two of my companions were killed within 40 ft of me as we were at [illegible] of a freight train in New Hampshire The train had jumped at midnight and I did not know they were dead until their bodies were found by the trainmen at daybreak They had been struck as the train entered a tunnel I remember hearing some one shout about a warning I fell flat on top of the car as the train whizzed into the tunnel and that saved my life

I wanted to see the world particularly this country and I did not remain long in any one place I did not have a trade and it is easy to utilize stand I was called upon to do many things to earn a livelihood I herded sheep in Montana sold a watch in a New Mexico resort hall worked for a florist and Hibbard porter in Los Angeles peeled potatoes on a lake steamboat between Milwaukee and Chicago sold real estate in New Jersey was housekeeper on a Texas ranch drove mules in a Pennsylvania mine clerked in a coffee shop in New Orleans worked in various hotels in Florida harvested in North Dakota managed a novelty store in Evansville Ind worked in a blacksmith shop in Ohio was a farm hand in Missouri worked in a distillery in Illinois groomed horses in Kentucky and put in time in a sawmill in Tennessee

Mr O'Neill said he did laundry work —his own—in creeks and streams in nearly every state in the Union He is proud of the fact that never once in four years of roving among strangers was he obliged to beg for food He did not communicate with his family while he was away and an otherwise happy home-coming last week was marred when he arrived and found his father died a year ago He considers his world wide experience invaluable but says he will never leave here again except on the dollar every sions limited to two days

Woes of the Rich

A smile illumined the countenance of the head bookkeeper The rich have their troubles he said jovially Yesterday the old man told me to come up to his house after hours to go over some accounts with him When I arrived about 7 o'clock he had on his evening clothes and was going to the theater he told me He had an early dinner so as to work with me until his wife should return from an automobile drive up in the Catskills, where she had been all day He was expecting her any minute, he said and meantime we would go over the accounts He had bought the tickets of course We went to work comfortably enough but after a while the old man began to get nervous Eight o'clock came and 8 30 and still no wife The old boy swore and I had to try to look sympathetic At 9 o'clock he received a telephone message that Mrs A party was up in the Catskills stranded with six punctures and might never get home The old man went to work any more that evening

Worked Overtime

"You said Farmer Corntassel I read every one of those speeches you printed in The Herald

Did they benefit you?

Yes sir I won the $2 Zeb Perkins bet that it couldn't be done"

Figuring

"Do you think dissolving your big monopoly will add to the expense of your business

Certainly, replied Mr Dustin Star "The readjustment of accounts will call for a lot of extra bookkeepers"

WHO IS YOUR DRUGGIST?

Why should you continue to experiment with salves, greasy lotions and fancy hair dressings trying to rid your scalp of germ life They can't do it because they can't penetrate to the seat of the trouble and from the germ life to the surface the scalp and destroy it

Why not try a PROVEN REMEDY? One that will do this We have a remedy that will rid the scalp of germ life and in this way will cure DANDRUFF and ITCHING SCALP

This remedy is ZEMO a clean refined penetrating scalp tonic that goes right to the seat of the trouble

A shampoo with ZEMO ANTISEPTIC SOAP and one application of ZEMO will entirely rid the scalp of dandruff and scurf Do not hesitate but get a bottle of ZEMO today. It acts on a new principle and will do exactly what we claim for it

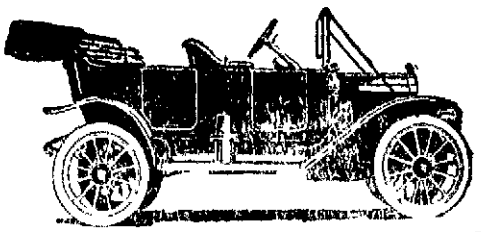
Flanders "20"

World's Champion



FLANDERS "20" TOURING CAR, $800

FLANDERS "20" [illegible] DOTHAN [illegible]

BUT NOW IT'S DIFFERENT [illegible] with [illegible] speed way just as simple to [illegible] with last week

NOT ONLY AT RACING but hill climbing [illegible] demonstrated its prowess [illegible] Portland

DOES TAKE THE ROAD RUNS such [illegible] from Los Angeles Cal to Phoenix Ariz [illegible] to $5 000 cash [illegible] splendid account of herself

PERHAPS THE GREATEST OF ALL the [illegible] Flanders "20" has performed was the First to Hazleton run when this car undertook the task of laying out a road through the wilderness of Northern Washington a feat that no other car had dared attempt during the two years that a trophy had been offered for the accomplishment

YOU CANNOT APPRECIATE the condition unless you have been there We have a little illustrated booklet that shows some of the seemingly impassable roads and the barriers that this car surmounted Let me send it to you

ESPECIALLY IF YOU ARE one of those fellows who have hesitated to buy an automobile because you felt you couldn't afford a higher priced car such as E M F "30" for example and who had the prevalent idea that in an $800 car one got only an excuse [illegible] one that would do all right on paved streets or good roads but utterly incapable of tackling a really hard job of touring over bad roads

IF YOU HAVE HAD THAT IDEA in your mind let me send you two booklets one entitled First to Hazleton and the other Down the Dixie Trail and you will experience a radical change of heart

DOWN THE DIXIE TRAIL is an account of the Glidden Path finding trip of Flanders "20" in which she again proved a feat of hard road work that never before had been performed by a light car and did it so well as to make performances of $5 000 cars look like the proverbial thirty cents plus grief

NO AIR HAS NOT HAVE to apologize for you car if it is a Flanders "20" It is just as good in every detail as E M F "30" A little smaller that's all And owners of either of these cars know they can say to owners of 40 horse power cars costing $6 000 or more Lead the way we will follow and we will arrive with or ahead of you

POWER ALONE DOESN'T MAKE EFFICIENCY It is the relation between power and weight So it is that E M F "30" will go anywhere a 60 will go and the "20" will follow just as easily and of course at a fraction of the cost per passenger mile

OF COURSE SPEED DOESN'T necessarily prove quality In a freak event it certainly does not But in a stock model it does and it proves that the owner has at his command at all times power in excess of his ordinary needs which he can use in most extraordinary conditions

BUT ROAD RACES DO [illegible] such as the Hazleton or Glidden these do prove quality in every part And to until some [illegible] car [illegible] for $1 00 or less has duplicated or at least attempted the feat of endurance Flanders "20" has accomplished [illegible] in using the expensive and pro[illegible] Flanders "20" is the [illegible] car on [illegible]

[illegible] $500 for factory and carries with it [illegible] Your [illegible] the order in his hands now and not [illegible] months or [illegible] you can't buy

My Stock of Clothing was bought expecting 15c cotton and cold weather. We are having 7 and 8c cotton, and warm weather. For instance look at these prices.

ALWAYS DEMAND FOR TEETH

One of Pawnbrokers' Best Lines, and Incidentally a Boon to the Poor of Big City.

A ghastly little heap of false teeth, both upper and lower sets lay in a corner of the pawnbroker's window amongst second hand shoes rusty flat irons, old clocks and so on

"Any sale for second hand false teeth?" the pawnbroker cried "Why, sir, there ain't a more saleable commodity going I'll advance money on a good upper set of false teeth as quick as on a gold watch

Just then an old woman in a dingy black shawl entered

"Let me look at the false teeth in the window—an upper set, she said

The pawnbroker, with a wink at the inquirer, brought out three double handfuls of teeth These the poor old woman placed, one set after another in her sunken mouth The sixth set she pronounced a good fit Paying for it with dimes and nickels out of a worn purse, she departed contentedly the teeth wrapped in a piece of newspaper.

"Oh, I tell ye," said the pawnbroker instantly, there's nothin like second hand teeth I only gave 30 cents on that set and I get one and a quarter for it Not bad profits hey?

HAD A NAUTICAL CHRISTENING

The Captain Knew Only One Form of Ceremony and Did His Duty as He Saw It.

Some years ago a slow sailing vessel, when some 500 miles out from Liverpool, picked up a lusty young baby of five years lashed to a mast

The captain took a great liking to him, called him his son and decided that the little chap must be christened—one of the few things which he knew must be attended to in the case of children

Of course there was no chaplain aboard so the captain himself undertook the ceremony He gathered the men about him and with a mixed knowledge of his duties he glared about him and asked whether any one knew just cause why the boy should not be christened

"If there is, he roared 'speak up like a man or forever hold your tongue

Then he suddenly cracked a bottle of wine above the boy's head and christened him

The ocean waif is now settled down with a steady longshoreman but he still relates with satisfaction the story of his christening

Must Have Been Work of Art

Critically the friend of the artist regarded the weird conglomeration of color which stood on the easel before him He stepped back, bent forward looked at it sideways and twisted his head in all directions

What do you think of it? questioned the aspiring R A

Good' Very good' his friend answered 'It's a perfect portrait only—ah—I should be inclined to criticise one little detail The original is scarcely so red in the face as you have painted him

The artist gasped

'What on earth are you talking about?' he asked

'Your picture' It's your uncle of course'

My uncle?' cried the amazed wielder of the brush That—that my uncle? Why, it's the sunset Don't you see the title, Sunset and Evening Star?' —Answers

Men Favored to Teach Girls

Arguments as to whether men or women should be employed to educate girls are being heard a great deal nowadays Many women think men teachers exert a greater influence on girls and make them do more studying Others contend women teachers have a more refining influence 'I am tired,' said one man of the constant demand for women as governesses for girls I am convinced governesses have a narrowing influence on girls whereas well trained men have a broadening mental influence It is true the majority of studies may be taught more effectively by men and that their minds are more logical It is true women may have greater tact, more sympathy than men, but in the training of children the man's mind, being broader, has a more lasting influence —Pittsburg Dispatch.

Don't

Don't permit the wild demonstrations of temper, the screaming and kicking which one sometimes—in fact too often—witnesses in the little ones They demoralize both parent and child They need never be if the very first demonstration is controlled and checked Mothers and fathers, don't forget that in nine cases out of ten if you have a spoiled disagreeable child to deal with it is your fault It can as soon as the babies are born to train them in the right way and they will grow up happy, healthy and wise —Exchange

He Met the New 'Feller"

'What did you do on your way to school this morning Harold?' asked Harold's mamma

Nothin much I met the new feller that's moved in next door to us

But the teacher has just written me a note informing me that you were a half hour late for school

Huh' That ain't nothin' You'd orter see the new kid next door He never got to school at all '

The Reminder

Frederick Townsend Martin apropos of the extravagances of the idle rich said at a dinner in New York

It is bad enough for the rich who can afford it to be extravagant but what of the extravagance of the merely well to do who can't'

'How many a poor struggling broker or lawyer or promoter slaves himself into nervous prostration in order to gratify the extravagant tastes of his wife!

'I heard of a case in point yesterday The wife of an overworked promoter said at breakfast

Will you post this letter for me dear? It is to the furrier counter manding my order for that $800 sable and ermine stole You'll be sure to remember?

'The tired eyes of the harassed shabby promoter lit up with joy He seized a skipping rope that lay with a heap of dolls and toys in a corner and going to his wife he said

Here tie my right hand to my left foot so I won't forget

More Likely

What's the excitement at that street crossing? Some automobile collision?

I think not The crowd's too big for that Some professional pugilist must have stepped into the saloon at that corner and they're waiting for him to come out

"Best on Earth"
